DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 9, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that there is "no mention of returning the kit when the patient visits the physician." The medical pack of Allen et al is disclosed as a refillable container, and therefore has to be brought back to the physician to be refilled. Furthermore, as noted by the Applicant, Allen et al discloses, "the patient makes his or her regular visit to the physician as indicated, and indeed the instructions are such that most of the discussions can occur with a physician's assistant, freeing up physician time." (emphasis added). Therefore, the patient can see the physician and discuss the treatment with said physician as disclosed, even if it is not the preferred embodiment.

The steps of "identifying a plurality of medical conditions" and "specifying a course of home patient treatment" are mental steps and are given little patentable weight. Even if given patentable weight, Allen et al discloses designing the kit for a plurality of patients, e.g. "still further objective is to provide all of the above objects using materials that are hypoallergenic and using solutions that do not cause allergic reactions in most patients." The plurality of medical conditions is not necessarily claimed as requiring a plurality of different medical packs; they could be similar packs used for a plurality of similar medical conditions, e.g. external fixator pins for the hip.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-13 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Allen et al. (5,979,658) as cited in Applicant's IDS. Allen et al. discloses a method for treatment comprising diagnosis and treatment with a kit, said kit including instructions and a log sheet, and returning the kit (col. 2, lines 39-49 and col. 4, lines 26-39). Please note that where the printed matter is not functionally related to the substrate (e.g. billing code), the printed matter will not distinguish the invention from the prior art in terms of patentability. In addition, the limitation wherein the medical packs integrate medical supplies and medications from different manufacturers is essentially a product by process limitation. Furthermore, any portion of the kit could be considered the "starter kit".

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

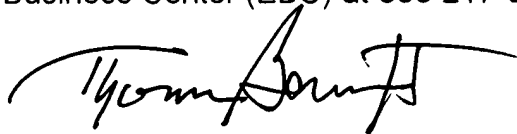

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
